- Proposed 4 buildings totaling 50 one (1) bedroom units
- Over 50% of the land would be open space
- Limited traffic in or out of the complex
- Lighting would be downcast
- 100% of project is affordable housing

- Units are 100% accessible

- Property is in Rural Residential and Village Residential Zones
- Current density would allow 32 to 33 units

It would be conceivable that the application to the planning board would be denied and sent to the Zoning Board for various variances.

Public Comments/Questions

- What about runoff? No answer at this time although there are ways to prevent problems
- Why not cut the project in half? Case managers with HUD funding are 2 for every 25 units.
- What about foot traffic? History is that there is very little foot traffic; residents use the van to access outside
- Residents usually like to be part of the community; some work part time
- Soldier On provides services [health etc]; VA helps the residents
- Timeline is based on funding; if it is approved it could be up to two years before completion
- Comments included liking the project and some did not agree that this would be the right fit for Ashland
- What would the view from the road be? Proposed trees and vegetation along the entrance to the units
- Benefits to Ashland – affordable housing, paying taxes and for services; good neighbors; support Vets
- Are the same hurdles found in other venues? Yes
- What defines affordable? Federal sources define as less than 60% of area medium income
